ARE YOU A RESPONSIBLE
cat owner?

■ ASK YOURSELF THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

- Is your cat identified by a collar, tag and microchip?
- Does your cat wear two or more bells?
- Is your cat desexed?
- Has your cat been registered if it's over 12 weeks of age?
- Is your cat locked inside from sunset to sunrise?

If you answered yes to all of these questions, you're on track with responsible cat ownership.

■ PROTECT YOUR CAT'S LIFE AND LOCAL WILDLIFE

Cats kept inside at night are less likely to get run over by cars, attacked by other cats or dogs and will not be a nuisance to neighbours.

Another good reason to keep your cat inside at night is that most of our native wildlife is nocturnal and cats attack native animals. If your cat has harmed a native animal, please call Sydney Wildlife on 9413 4300.

■ NUISANCE CATS

A cat can be classified as a nuisance if:

- It makes a noise that persistently occurs and interferes with the peace and comfort of a person in nearby premises.
- It repeatedly damages anything outside the property on which it is ordinarily kept.
